TARGETING MATHEMATICS

Targeting Mathematics comprises a comprehensive learning package for primary school learners: Learner’s Books, Workbooks, a Teacher’s Guide and a Learner Companion for each grade. Targeting Mathematics uses a popular CPA (Concrete-Pictorial-Abstract) approach.

- Let’s Talk About prepares learners for mathematical concepts
- See and Learn introduces concepts in a visual, relatable manner
- Activities are provided in the form of Do and Learn, Pair and Share, Hands-On and IT activities, giving learners opportunities to practise and reinforce concepts
- Comprehensive lesson plans in the Teacher’s Guide include learning objectives, key concepts, thinking skills and model answers

Activity 1
Discuss balance and contrast
Find the answers in pairs.
1. Look at the light areas and the dark areas of Pemba's painting. How has the artist used tone to create balance?
2. How has the artist used colour to create balance?
3. If we drew a line from the top left-hand corner of the painting to the bottom right-hand corner of the painting, which part would be heavier? Why do you think this?
4. How has the artist created a focal point in this painting?
5. What contrasts can you find in this painting?

Monochromatic colour
If something is monochromatic, it is produced in one colour or tones of one colour. Look at the monochromatic colour wheel. What do you notice about the colour in each of the photographs?

Activity 2
Discuss monochromatic colour
Work in pairs.
1. Why do you think artists sometimes use monochromatic colour?
2. What do you notice about the tones in the monochromatic photographs?
3. Which of these photographs is balanced, and which is not balanced?

Module 1: Map skills: Looking at the world

Revision summary

In this module you learnt about map skills:

- Lines of latitude are lines that run across a map parallel to the equator.
- Lines of longitude are lines that run across a map between the equator and the North and South Poles, measured in degrees west or east of the Greenwich Meridian.
- The equator divides the Earth into the northern and southern hemispheres.
- The Greenwich Meridian and the 180° line of longitude divide the Earth into the western and eastern hemispheres.
- Lines of latitude and longitude form a grid on a map that we can use to locate places.

Support learning includes:
- Assessment tools
- Drawing mind maps and timelines
- Extra resources, including exemplar tests
- Illustrations, graphs, pictures and photographs to explain the activities
- Teaching tips
- Formal assessment activities such as knowledge testing.

WHAT IS OXFORD READING SAFARI?

Oxford Reading Safari is a personalised, online and interactive reading programme developed by reading and language experts. It is suitable for both English Home and Additional Language speakers.

WHAT MAKES IT UNIQUE?

Oxford Reading Safari has the unique ability to identify a challenged reader’s area of weakness and to tailor the programme to address those problems. It effectively addresses different types of reading challenges in fun and flexible online sessions.
HOW DOES IT WORK?

Oxford Reading Safari uses mentoring, a proven and powerful learning tool. The reader works online alongside a reading partner, who could be a therapist, a parent, a committed older child or a teacher.

The reader and a reading partner start with a levelling passage so that the reader can begin the programme at the right level. They then work through a series of reading passages that get progressively more challenging.

HOW IS PROGRESS MEASURED?

Oxford Reading Safari measures progress in speed and accuracy. Each reading passage comes with a set of questions to test the reader’s comprehension and vocabulary. Progress is measured and comprehensive reports are available.

HOW ARE LEARNERS MOTIVATED TO PROGRESS?

Oxford Reading Safari makes reading fun! While readers practise their reading, they go on an adventure to a game park. As they read, they will earn points that allow them to see different animals and birds in the game park. They will also learn about caring for injured and rescued animals, conservation and much more!

Read to Learn is the solution we have been waiting for.

Read to Learn covers Natural Sciences and Technology, Social Sciences and Mathematics for Grades 4-6. It has been specifically designed to grow reading skills across the Grades 4-6 CAPS curriculum at different language levels so that learners who struggle to read can still access the material they need to learn.

Did you know?

78% of Grade 4 learners cannot read for meaning (PIRLS 2016). Readers often battle to read for meaning, especially with the jump from Grade 3 to Grade 4. This may be because English is not their home language or it may be because they are not strong readers. Read to Learn has specifically been designed to assist learners with the switch from mother-tongue instruction in Grade 3, to English as language of instruction in Grade 4.

Read to Learn has specifically been designed to assist learners with the switch from mother-tongue instruction in Grade 3, to English as language of instruction in Grade 4.

WHAT LANGUAGE SUPPORT IS BUILT INTO THE SYSTEM?

Additional language support includes:

- vocabulary support (in English and in isiXhosa/IsiZulu) including audio pronunciation.
- a personal dictionary that each learner can create by ‘adding’ words that they have looked up in the dictionary.
- vocabulary games containing words relevant to the content.

The intention is to gradually increase the learners’ reading level so that they can read at the required level for their grade.

HOW DOES THE SYSTEM MOTIVATE LEARNERS?

The content is rich and interactive and includes a lot of audio, bringing the content to life. There are lots of quizzes and games to motivate learners.

HOW DOES THE SYSTEM PLACE THE LEARNER ON A READING LEVEL?

When the learner logs in to Read to Learn for the first time, the system tests their reading and comprehension level. This placement test was designed by an experienced teacher and tested in schools before it was built into the system. Each learner is placed on a reading level based on how well they did in the placement test.

TEACHER DASHBOARD

There is also a teacher dashboard where the teacher can follow the progress of the class and individuals.

Why choose Read To Learn?

Read To Learn is designed to integrate and coordinate with the teaching timetable. Learners benefit from both face-to-face time with their teacher and digital time where they can learn at their own pace and level.

Aweh! is built around the South African child and the Foundation Phase curriculum. It includes:
- topics that match the Life Skills curriculum
- that week’s Mathematics concept included in the story
- South African-based, curriculum-aligned vocabulary lists.

Per grade, Aweh! has four levels of 40 Readers and 20 accompanying Big Books that include:
- 20 fiction stories
- 13 non-fiction texts
- 7 faction stories
- 12 different genres
- a creative writing activity
- 3 photocopiable worksheets (2 in the Photocopiable Worksheets, and 1 in the Teaching Notes).

Aweh! vocabulary lists for English, isiXhosa and isiZulu include the most frequently used or important words learners will encounter in the Foundation Phase classroom.

Digital Teacher’s Resource (USB)
Aweh! Grade 1 English includes a Digital Teacher’s Resource. Included on the USB are:
- all the printed Readers and Big Books
- the Photocopiable Worksheets
- the Teaching Notes
- guidance on assessment
- extra vocabulary worksheets
- interactive digital games
- the Aweh! Levels 1 to 4 wordlist
- walkthrough teaching videos for all of the Readers.

The Aweh! English wordlist is the only such list in South Africa. Most sight word and high frequency wordlists are based on newspapers as the source of data and so adult words like “corporation” and “committee” appear on them. The Aweh! list however, is based on the local child’s environment and curriculum.

OXFORD READING FOR COMPREHENSION
A brand-new series for Grades 1 to 3 with a strong focus on vocabulary building with clear repetition, especially of sight words
- Making meaning and comprehension are at the heart of the series, with comprehension strategies and skills foregrounded in the Teacher’s Handbook
- Every story includes detailed tips for activating prior knowledge, prediction and monitoring comprehension
- Readers are supported by Big Books, Worksheets, Flash cards, Context cards and a CAPS-aligned Teacher’s Guide

Numicon is a tried-and-tested mathematics teaching approach:
- for the Foundation Phase and Intermediate Phase
- designed to give children the understanding of number concepts and number relationships
- based on structured patterns called ‘Numicon shapes’
- can be used flexibly alongside existing resources, or as a complete Maths programme.

LET’S PRACTISE
OUP SA
This series of fill-in workbooks is fully CAPS compliant for the Foundation Phase, Intermediate Phase and Grade 7. Let’s Practise:
• offers practice on key subject skills
• gives learners the opportunity to test their own knowledge and identify the skills in which they need more practice
• is ideal for use with the corresponding Oxford classroom series
• can also be used with other curriculum-compliant textbooks.

Why use a bilingual dictionary?
A small-scale evaluation study in Gqeberha into teachers’ perceptions of the impact of the Oxford Bilingual School Dictionary: isiXhosa and English showed that:
- all participating teachers felt that the dictionary had had a positive impact on them and their learners
- the impact was felt in the Home Language (isiXhosa) and the Additional Language (English)
- learners were more confident reading and pronouncing English
- learners’ isiXhosa vocabulary had grown
- learners learnt more quickly and
- it supported teachers teaching other subjects such as Natural Sciences, making their work easier.

RESOURCES
EARLY GRADE READING AND MATHEMATICS IN SOUTH AFRICA

This three-volume collection brings together the works of a group of South African researchers well known in the field of early grade reading and mathematics: Nic Spaull, Stephen Taylor, Elizabeth Pretorius, Hamsa Venkat and Nicky Roberts.

South Africa performs poorly in international comparative, benchmark and standardised assessments and these three titles collectively take stock of the national situation. The collection seeks out insights from 2010–2020, including whether reading and mathematics outcomes have improved, why they have improved, and why the post-improvement level of performance is still so low. It also offers recommendations for future education policy and guidelines.
